legendary waters, including the trout-filled Tongariro River, and of course Lake Taupō, its vast, sparkling lake lying in an ancient volcanic caldera born from one of the world's most spectacular eruptions. It is the source of the mighty Waikato River that leads to the epic Huka Falls, Aotearoa's most visited natural attraction.

Lake Taupō is also home to one of Aotearoa's most significant pieces of Māori art - the Ngātoroirangi Māori Rock Carvings. These stunning creations stand up to 14 metres above the lake, leaving visitors mesmerized.

Each of the awe-inspiring volcanoes of the UNESCO dual World Heritage Tongariro National Park has a unique character. Aotearoa's largest ski fields are found on Mt Ruapehu, which also draws hikers to its peak in summer. The Tongariro Alpine Crossing is an unforgettable hike across a volcanic moonscape of gemstone-coloured mineral pools and steaming vents.

With welcoming resort towns, bustling lakeside villages and everything from world-class luxury lodges to comfortable lakeside motels to stay in, adventure, discovery and wonder lie just outside every door in the Taupō region.
