America The Beautiful: One Adventure At A Time

④ Hawai'i: From Mountains To Sea

If you have clients who have always dreamed of really exploring Hawai'i, Travel USA has created a true bucket-list adventure—17 days combining Oahu, Kaua'i, Maui and the Island of Hawai'i, packed with incredible experiences and inclusions along the way.

It begins on Oahu, mixing Waikiki's beaches and energy with Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian culture, a sunset catamaran cruise, the legendary North Shore and spectacular landscapes of Kualoa Ranch, showcasing the many different sides of the island. Then it's on to Kaua'i, where Hawai'i becomes wilder and greener, with Waimea Canyon, lush valleys and the soaring cliffs of the Na Pali Coast creating some of Hawai'i's most dramatic scenery.

Maui brings another change of pace, from sunrise above Haleakala to waterfalls, rainforest and beautiful beaches along the Road to Hana. Finally, the Island of Hawai'i reveals another side, from swimming with manta rays off Kona to exploring the volcanic landscapes around Hilo.

Beyond the Obvious

Oahu and Maui may be the islands clients know best, but Kaua'i and the Island of Hawai'i reveal very different sides of Hawai'i.

Kaua'i is Hawai'i at its dramatic best, with rainforest-covered valleys, deep canyons and the towering sea cliffs of the Na Pali Coast. Waimea Canyon and Koke'e State Park are spectacular from the ground, while the included doors-off helicopter flight offers an unforgettable perspective from above.

On the Island of Hawai'i, the scenery changes again. Clients can snorkel with manta rays after dark off Kona before travelling to Hilo and Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park, where lava fields, steam vents, craters and Nāhuku (Thurston Lava Tube) reveal the volcanic forces still shaping the island.

Together, all four islands create a journey that shows just how much variety Hawai'i has to offer.
